Valuable property Wednesday morning by several fundred armed men. Valuable property destroyed, two men killed, several severely wounded. Rest of men driven across range. Desperadoes now have forcible possession. Sheriff says he is powerless to give us possession of our property or protect lives of employes and has called for troops, which were decided. Without this protection propdenied. Without this protection property must be indefinitely abandoned. Will you telegraph me advice and furnish us protection?
ARTHUR L. COLLINS,

Manager The Smuggler-Union Mining GOV. ORMAN'S REPLY.

Denver, Colo., July 4, 1901.-Arthur L. Denver, Colo., July 4, 1891.—Arthur L. Colins, Manager Smuggler-Union Mining Co., Telluride, Colo.;—Unlawful possession of property will not be tolerated in this state, and if property is not immediately surrendered to rightful owners immediate action will be taken by state authorities and all par-ties implicated severely dealt with. Sheriff has not been denied troops. JAMES B. ORMAN, Governor.

Gov. Orman today appointed a committee of three prominent citizens to go to Telluride and represent him in an effort to bring about an adjustment of the trouble between the owners of the Smuggler-Union mine and the striking hiners. The committee consists of Lieut.-Gov. D. C. Coates, prominent in labor circles and ex-president of the State Federation of Labor; Judge Thoren Stevens of Ouray, and John Murphy of Denver. They left at 9:30 tonight for Telluride, and will arrive at heir destination at 4 o'clock tomorrow

They carry with them a copy of the reply of Gov. Orman to Manager Col-lins of the Smuggler-Union mine, in which the governor says that the state authorities would not permit unlawful possession of property. This message vill be shown to the miners, and if they still refuse to retire from the prop-Gev. Orman has instructed the committee to say to the men that they will be dispossessed, even to the extent ng on the state militia to enforce the decision of the governor.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 4,—At Wheat-land, Wyo., this afternoon, John T. Rigdon and Ernest E. Crater, while boating on a lake near the town, were drowned by the boat capsizing. Young Rigdon was a student in the Denver law school, and Crater a bookkeeper for the Wheatland Mercantile company. Both men were graduates of the University of Wyoming.

An Oregon Stage Held Up.

Baker City, Or., July 4.—The Baker-Bridgeport stage was held up about 2 o'clock this afternoon about half a mile this side of Dooley mountain by a lone highwayman. There were no passengers on the stage. The driver, Dave Holden, was on the return trip from Bridgeport to this city, when a masked man sudnly appeared in the road behind a revolver and told the driver to get down and throw up his hands. The robber went through his pockets, securing $45 in cash and his watch. The mails were not disturbed. ### DEBATE ON THE BOER WAR

Houss of Commons Witnesses a Most Acrimonious Discussion.

Government's Way of Reply Denounced - Mr. Broderick Taunts Radicals and Irish.

London, July 4.-In the house of commons tonight an acrimonious discussion arose between the radicals and the government on the South African war, Mr. Lloyd-George and others vio-lently denouncing the government's way of reply.

William Redmond, nationalist, reminded the government that the day was Independence day beyond the seas, and that British statesmen were now glad to claim kinship with and sing hosannas to greet the independent

America. The anniversary, he insisted, ought to be a lesson to them,
Mr. Broderick, the war secretary, amid continued disorder and interruption from the Irish benches, reproached the pro-Boer radicals with prolonging the war by encouraging the Boers to a vain resistance. He announced that the government had just received news that Commandant-General Louis Botha had permission in June to communicate with Mr. Kruger, the result of which a meeting at which Gen. Dewet. Gen. Botha and others decided to continue the war and to accept no terms short of independence. Mr. Broderick added that the government's resolution was still unshaken, and that great progress had been made in the war during the last three months.

Sir Henry Cambell-Bannerman, who supported the radical attack, declared that the government should endeavor to conciliate brave opponents.

Arthur J. Balfour, government leader, protested vigorously against the Boer attitude of the opposition, declaring that it prolonged the war and inflicted untold suffering upon an innocent population. He taunted Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman with having long sat upon the fence, but finally having made up his mind and descended on the pro-Boer side, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman leaped up and angrily exclaimed that Mr. Balfour might call him what he liked, but he had no right to use a term intended to be offensive.

Mr. Balfour thereupon said he would willingly withdraw the term "pro-Roer" if it were offensive. Continuing his speech, he declared that it was not Europe nor the United States who encouraged the Boers to resist, but that the chief encouragement was contributed by the speeches of the members of the opposition in the house of commons. The debate was adjourned. The dispatch read by Mr. Broderick was the first really definite announcement that the government has made that the peace negotiations have failed. It revived keen interest in the war. Dispatches from the front say the Boers still have 13,000 men in the field, and declare that unless the war can be finished during the next three months, the prospect is that it will continue for another year. The morning papers again urge the government to make vigorous efforts and to make no further attempts at negotiation. The dispatch read by Mr. Broderick was a proclamation issued by Messrs. Schalkburger and Steyn detailing the result of Gen. Botha's communication with Mr. Kruger, being to the effect that Mr. Kruger and the Boer dele-gates in Europe still had great hopes of a satisfactory issue of the war.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S BODY. Secretly Moved to a Special Vault in the Monument.

Springfield, Ill., July 4.—The body of Abraham Lincoln has been secretly moved to a special private vault in the monument as a safeguard against any attempt to carry it away. The exact time of the removal of the remains is not known, but it is supposed to have been last Monday night. State officers and men engaged in the work refused to talk. Robert T. Lincoln of Chicago, son of the deceased President, came to Springfield on May 23rd, and since that time work on the secret vault has been going on. It was completed a few days ago, and the removal of the remains was accomplished in secret.

Strong Efforts. Washington, D. C., July 4.—A cable-gram received at the navy department today from Rear-Admiral Kempff anounces the arrival of the gunboats Gurdequi and Piscataque at Gandara on the island of Samar. According to the latest reports from the Philippines, this island is the scene of the most tenacious forlorn hope of the insurection, and strong efforts are being made by both the army and the navy to rapidly complete its subjugation: Admiral Kempff also reports the arrival of the gunboat Vicksburg at Cavite.

The Salt Lakes won one and lost one to Ogden by forfelting the morning game, and thus the Lagoons and White Wings are placed on an equal footing. But the poor old Parks, sad to relate, were shut out in both games and are way down in the mire. Ogden still has a big lead and it will require some good sharp work to haul them down the line. But the Lagoon-ites and Salt Lakes say the Lobsters' winning streak is broken, "busted wide open" as one puts it, and are due for a big come down.

BASEBALL CROWD DISGUSTED.

Altogether Too Much Park City to Suit Salt Lakers. Salt Lake lovers of baseball were sadly disappointed over the program at the League Park and the feeling generally is that there has been altogether "too much Park City" here. Putting strong teams against a weak one, both in the morning and afternoon had the effect of keeping hundreds away from the games and disgusting most of those who witnessed the one sided affairs. Of course, the Salt Lake management is not so much to blame for the reason that every effort was made to induce Ogden to come here in the morning and play the Salt Lakes. Park City could then have gone to Lagoon or not played at all in the morning. Tomorrow the Lagoons and Salt Lakes will play here and the game ought to be a good one and draw a big crowd. Newmeyer will probably pitch for Lagoon and Hawley for Salt Lakes. On Sunday the Salt Lakes are doomed to play Park City again.
